WHAT HAVE WE DONE FOR OUR CLIENTS?

As a company, 360 Law Group has taken advantage of changes in law and technology to provide clients, companies and consumers alike, with a choice of how they receive legal services and the amount they pay.

For years Solicitors fees have increased so that only wealthier clients could actually afford quality representation. This led the Government to intervene with the enactment of the Legal Services Act of 2007, to encourage competition in the legal services market and lower legal fees.

360 Law Group is the first law firm in the UK to capitalise on these changes in the law and have both regulated and unregulated law practices operating within the same group. We have set the standard for the future provision of law that others will follow.

Although we operate under a disruptive legal model, we believe passionately that our valued clients should have access to the very best legal advice from qualified and experienced lawyers who are at the top of their game.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN FOR OUR LAWYERS?

Although the Legal Services Act 2007 opened up the legal services market to allow unqualified individuals to provide legal services and compete against experts who have dedicated years to qualifying; with us it means our qualified lawyers can, if they choose to, work within both our regulated and our unregulated practices. They can, therefore, maximise their income potential.

If you are interested in working in both of our practices, please let us know when you make your application to 360 Law Services.

WHAT COULD YOU ACHIEVE WITH THE RIGHT SUPPORT?

We have all been there – the nightmare of working in practice - long days and longer nights, in-house politics, all make life very stressful for what is, in reality, little reward.

The centuries old practice of law has changed little over the years. Many traditional law practices have failed to evolve and continue to operate in an archaic manner on legacy infrastructures, all at the expense of what is their only real asset – their Solicitors.

Those who have escaped this experience have, to some degree, seen the light, and are aware of the many advantages, both personal and financial, that can be found outside of the traditional law firm.
With us, to a great extent, you are the boss and have an uncapped earning potential.

As long as the client work gets completed within our client’s reasonable expectations, you dictate the time, the way you work and the fees you charge.

In short, you have control.

With us you will benefit from one of the highest fee share arrangements provided by any regulated distributed legal practice in the UK. What’s more - unlike many other regulated distributed practices that simply process business brought in by its consultant lawyers, 360 Law Group’s trading companies actively market to, and bring in workload from its established and fast-growing business and consumer client base. We provide you with the right environment and all the tools you need to make a success of your business.

In addition to the things we have to provide as a regulated ABS, these being a COLP, COFA and £3 million of Professional Indemnity insurance, we also provide a highly secure cloud-based infrastructure for all our lawyers to utilise, including Microsoft Office 365 email and applications; a bespoke case, time, document management and billing system; access to research tools, dictation, photocopying, and all general administrative support – in fact everything you need to run your own highly efficient practice.

Through 360 Law Services, we operate a simple fee share structure:

- Work generated by the consultant lawyer – consultants get a minimum of 75% rising on a sliding scale to 85% of fee charged to client;
- Work generated by 360 Law Services or another member of 360 Law Group – minimum 70% rising on a sliding scale to 80% of fee charged to client.

As a consultant at 360 Law Services you don’t have to manage teams, but, as you are part of 360 Law Group, you are part of a very large, global team of lawyers, with expertise across multiple disciplines and jurisdictions. This gives you the ability to interact with other experts to better serve our clients because you can confidently cross-refer work to other highly talented lawyers.
